and I walked most of the property today... Starting at the south property line:  the property line is almost in the middle of the driveway across the street,  turning around and facing east, toward the back of the property and the ravine,  I then walked North to the far north corner of the lot, looking back to the south  along the north fence line, looking south  again from the north fence line  this is the start of the ravine, note you cannot see the fence line along the road due to the elevation.  along the north fence line, facing to the back of the property. It goes WAY back, past the brown weeds to a fence line.  no that is not a cow, it is a puppy (??) named Gunner, who belongs to Amanda' sister April. Looking east to the back of the property at the brush pile on the edge of the ravine.  standing on the edge of the ravine, looking east  Ravine and more ravine  on the edge of the ravine looking east along the south property line.  Standing along the south property line, looking toward the north and the neighbors. This is probably where the house will be located.  On the east property line, looking north  on the east property line looking northeast  on the east property line, looking southeast  on the east property line looking south.
