

My 1,000th post!

Posted on September 20,2017 by nmcreatrix

Just like when I passed the 900 mark, I had planned something special for my 1,000th post, but this will have to do: The Equinox this Friday Sept. 22 is a change in attitude:

The energy to come will be calming and should ease any harsh feelings you have been having. Let things simmer down and allow yourself to flow right into where you need to be. Make every moment count and enjoy the energy to come.

I needed this message today! I will try to do something spectacular for my 1001st post!
