Wow I guess that I am back... and still posting away. This is almost 1000 posts here, and that does not count the almost 600 posts from by Blogger blog... This was my message from the Universe today

Hello love. How are you today? Gorgeous... yes. I like how your self-confidence has been soaring lately. Shari, remember the last time when you blew some little thing way out of proportion and thought it just might derail your entire life? Yeah, it still cracks us up too. Anyhow, just wanted to remind you of your supernatural rebounding skills. You will always prevail, The Universe
