This is so inline with what I believe in...

Start this Christmas, or whatever holiday you celebrate, and spend less money this season. Instead of buying tons of gifts from Amazon or another corporate store, support a mom-and-pop shop. Do something that doesn't cost a thing: Write a poem, draw a picture, cook a meal. Give from the heart. Start small. Stop buying that daily cup of coffee. Make your coffee at home. Give up fast food. Bring lunch from home. Tell a friend and family member to do the same. A handful of companies control all the world's major brands. Organize a boycott of corporations that do harm.

There is much more in the article from TruthDig by Eric Ortiz which you can read HERE
