

Great Quote from Quinn Creative

Posted on December 30,2017 by nmcreatrix

as the new year approaches...

Then I use more leaves to write down blessings I'd like to leave to the world: kindness, compliments, generosity, forgiveness, appreciation of what I have, the blessing of seeing another full moon, another dawn, enjoying a meal. More blessings than I thought. Another pile of leaves.

See the complete post on Quinn's Blog I have been using Quinn's Word of the Year instead of New Years Resolutions, and this year my word is CREATIVITY. I have lost my mojo and will spend New Years Day doing nothing but contemplating, reviewing and doing ART! (BTW I had planned to do the whole weekend, but those plans changed...) 2018 will be a better year...
