

Interesting Coincidence

Posted on April 14,2018 by nmcreatrix

Catching up on my emails today after work and came across this: { also Mercury goes out of retrograde tomorrow... } Weekly Starcodes excerpt by Heather Roan Robbins—Visit our Astology Connection page for the complete daily predictions for the week and an overview of the Year for the current SunSign.

"Good news for those who feel it is time to stir the political coals, Chiron, the asteroid we associate with healing through applying hard-won wisdom, an asteroid between Saturn and Uranus, enters Aries on Tuesday. Chiron passed through Aries from 1918-1927 and 1968 to 1977, both interestingly radical times which encouraged us to rethink the total socio-economic structure. It dips back into Pisces this summer then enters Aries for the next decade.

All of this is from We'moon, a most excellent feminist Calendar maker group. I was active in the 1968-77 period, and we changed the world in many ways {some not the best, but you know...} So this may be an interesting period.

Posted in:Uncategorized || With 4 comments